Dear Diary,

Today is a SPECIAL day because it is MY BEST FRIEND BIRTHDAY'S Lisa! She is 13 years old today. I bought a bedroom decoration but the problem is, I BROKE her present on the way to go to her place. So, I decided to go to the shop to buy an other present. When I arrived the shop closed. ☹️ So I decided to go to her birthday PARTY without a present. When I arrived, it's waste of time so we decided to see each other an other day with the present 😊 AND WE ARE GOING TO MEET TOMORROW FOR MY BIRTHDAY ♥️!!!!

Dear Diary,

TODAY, IT'S MY BIRTHDAY!!!!!! I'm so excited because it's my BIRTHDAY! I do a big PARTY and I have invited my best friends and my friend. When I arrived at the school other people told me HAPPY BIRTHDAY but Lisa didn't tell me!! I don't know why and Camille told me Lisa didn't say HAPPY BIRTHDAY it's because I didn't help her for her test. Finally, I go back home and I am very very very very SAD because Lisa, Camille and I quarrelled over my BIRTHDAY!!!

Monday, December 10th

Today, it was the first day of the spirit week and ~~spirit week~~ It was pyjama day. So I took my unicorn pyjama but I was alone in my class to take a pyjama. Great! And it was super because at 12 o'clock there was an activity and of course, I got lost in the corridors! It was a super day!

Tuesday, December 25th

Yesterday, it was christmas and, because I am really gifted, I set fire to the christmas tree! I had to light a candle and put it on the table, that is normal. I stumbled over a present! I fell and the candle too, on the other presents and the fir tree. They burnt and there were no presents left for the children. I felt guilty!
I was punished and I had to work to reimburse the presents.
Why everytime me?

20th July 2018

Dear Diary,
Today I realised I could accomplish my dream: I went to New York.

This can appear strange that I want to go to this town more than anything else but it's like that we don't choose our destiny.

This morning, at 9 o'clock, my plane landed at the Kennedy Airport. After being ~~cont~~ controlled, I took a taxi and visited some New York street. But then I forgot I didn't pass by the hotel to drop my baggages. After passing by the hotel, I went into a New York restaurant to eat my lunch.

Dear Diary

And by after I leaved you lonely because I needed to eat: I ^{went} ~~went~~ to Central Park. I am sitting down a bench. Behind me there is a wood. If I did a break during my visit of the city, it's because I need to tell you something.... You are going to think that I'm crazy but.... I saw a Vampire! Yes, you understood a Vampire! Like the story of Dracula. I was scared at first by the vampire but then we met and he is very nice. But let me tell you the story by the beginning....

5 July:

I arrived in England. I knew that I was with 2 others girls. I was not very happy because they looked like 2 big dictionaries. In the end they were nice. After we tidied our bedroom. In the afternoon, we went to the swimming-pool. At the swimming-pool we played with our friends and, at a moment, Gaspard, one of our friends, fell down and he opened his chukbone so the went to the hospital.

6 July:

Today, we went to our school in Herne-Bay but after 1 hour of research, we realized than we were completely lost. We called a friends and we arrived at school. After 3 hours of lesson, we went out for our lunch but it was really, really, really disgusting. The afternoon, we went to London. It was fantastic. It's really a beautiful city. We visited the british museum but it was a little bit bored, so we decided to did a hide and seek. It was so funny.

Dear Diary, yesterday I took a plane for Shanghai, and a baby cried during the whole flight, and it got on my nerves. At the end, a flight attendant ^{gave} him a parachute and pushed him out of the plane.
